University of York – Protective Fellowships for Human Rights Defenders

Offered by the Centre for Applied Human Rights, these three to six month fellowships consist of an invitation of benefiting human rights defenders to come to York, to both enhance their skills and take time to recuperate before returning to their work. Defenders must be nominated by recognised civil society organisations and inter-governmental organisations working in human rights or human rights defenders.

Institut für Auslandsbeziehungen Elisabeth-Selbert Initiative

Provides threatened human rights defenders with a safe place to rest and recuperate, as well as develop their professional skills and connections. Funding can cover different programme lines to provide temporary relocation either abroad, within an applicants' home region, or on-site, whilst the Special Module Afghanistan provides support for human rights defenders already issued with a German residence permit. In order to be eligible for a protective stay in Germany, human rights defenders must have the intention to return to their country of origin at the end of the temporary placement.
